

A Gentleman's Appeal
August 15, 1879

(A letter to the Atlantic Newspaper in regard to the sanctity of marriage)

The un-chastity of the Negro woman as a whole is attributed to their concern, or the lack thereof, for sexual purity. Thus, a close examination of the sexual immorality of the Negro suggests that open fraternization between Negros and Whites should ultimately be rejected. If we allow these morally inferior sexual deviants to live as social equals, then there will no doubt be a breakdown in all moral values.

The only way to suppress the sexual appetite of these insatiable beasts is to speak their language. Take their bodies at your will, even if they protest. They no doubt invite it. We are to do everything in our power to ensure the virtue and purity of our precious, docile ladies. Therefore, we can take full advantage of the sexual liberties afforded to us by the Negro wench. Fear not Gentlemen, our wives expect us to preserve the sanctity of our marriages by associating with these loosely moraled Negro lasses. It is duly our prerogative to take full sexual advantage of all of our female Negro servants. Not just us, but our sons as well. Gentlemen, I implore you, retain the sanctity of marriage by keeping the Negro whore at bay by exercising your sexual demons with the assistance of the negro jezebel.

Sincerely,

John Q. Public
